

WILD MAN MADE HIS HOME IN A STRAW STACK ON THE CAPP FARM

Uncouth, Bewhiskered Individual Scared Farmers For Several Days

WAS CAPTURED TODAY

And Brought to This City and Placed in Jail by Special Policeman Price

A wild man in the "civilized" undergrowth and bushes on one of Fred A. Capp's farm, south of this city, has given the women of that neighborhood a scare, and several there were, who were on the verge of nervous prostration.

The fellow was reported as being ill and scantily clad, tall, uncouth, face bewhiskered like an outlaw and eyes that flashed like a demon. He possessed all the foxyiness of a wild or crazy man, never nearing or approaching a farm house until the men were in the fields. Then he would suddenly dart out from a hiding place and of the women demand food. Several took to the heel and left the wild man on the premises to "take of the best and largest loaf, and any other food-stuff that met his fancy. When the farmers would return and institute a search, no trace of the creature could be found.

For several days a concerted effort has been made to trap the fellow, but without success, until this morning when John Stiers saw a form crawling into a hovel in a straw stack on the Capp farm. He immediately reported the matter, and a vigil was kept at the hole while Stiers came to this city for an officer. Special Policeman Price accompanied Stiers to the straw stack, and several armed farmers gathered about, when the officer demanded that the fellow come out of his hiding place.

Slowly he emerged from the hole, and while he did not show fight or make an attempt to escape, his very appearance [was] enough to send a shudder and cold chill over the captors. He wore long hair and evidently was never shaved in his life, and pieces of straw, leaves, sticks and dirt were in his hair and whiskers.

The man proved to be Albert Tyler, w until last winter lived alone in an old hut on the Winship farm, where he made a livelihood trapping. He became a nuisance and was ejected from the place. Nothing has been seen of him for some time, and the denizens of that part of the county had forgotten him. He has always lived a hermit life, and some there are who claim he is not sane.

He had slept in the straw stack for over a week, and had arranged a hovel by digging out, where he intended to remain the coming winter. When asked what he was doing on the place, he answered in a vague sort of way: "Pickin' black berries and waitin' for my dog." He had "neither bucket or basket in which to pick berries neither has anyone seen his dog."

Officer Price brought the man to this city and placed him in jail here. The only thing he would say at the jail, where he continually paces up and down, and occasionally peering out of his cell window: "Big man brought me here."

WARM FIGHT ON IN KNIGHTSTOWN

Remonstrance Cards are Being Freely and Openly Signed by Hundreds

SALOONISTS SEE FINISH

Opinion is That Sufficient Signatures Will be Secured to "Dry" Township

[Special to the Daily Republican.]

Knights town, Aug. 28.—The temperance people are leaving no stones unturned in their efforts to wipe all the saloons out of Wayne township. They are not resorting to trickery of any description but the little cards are being signed freely, in the presence of two witnesses, who also attach their signatures to the remonstrance together with the location, showing where such signatures were obtained.

Many people are fearing that trouble will follow if the remonstrance is successful. Several years ago a bitter war was waged by the saloon element and many depredations were committed, such as blowing up churches, firing residences, assaulting private citizens, etc. All of these depredations were supposed to be committed at the instigation of the saloon element and a young man was finally arrested. He feigned insanity, his father swore that his son was insane and he escaped sentence upon a technicality.

The saloonists here, who have operated according to law, blame the temperance fight to Alec McCarty, formerly of Rushville. His place was open after hours and he venued the case over the county and was finally found guilty and fined something over $100. Because of his actions the temperance people took up the fight and it is now openly stated that more than enough remonstrances have been secured to "dry" the township.

If the saloonists attempt to fight the remonstrance they must put up bond to cover the costs, and any way as the fight is figured the temperance people have the best of it. The remonstrance will be filed Friday.

WOMAN KILLS A PECULIAR SNAKE

Mrs. Sarah Bell's Curocity and Undaunted Courage Finds a "Nature Fake"

While driving from her home in Union township this morning, Mrs. Sarah Bell noticed a peculiar reptile crawling along near the side of the road, and the woman curiosity backed by interper courage, prompted her to alight and kill the crawling animal.

It was a green animal, not unlike a tobacco worm save it was about ten inches in length, but the moment she struck it, the animal telescoped and was only about three inches in length. It is armed with three horns or tusks, and though dead—according to Mrs. Bell—it is not lifeless, for it affectionately wags its tail occasionally, and that part of the anatomy will probably not die until the sun goes down.

The members of the Ebenezer M. E. church at Gowdy will hold an all day reunion next Tuesday, and will give an ice cream social at night.

COUNTY FAIR OPENED TODAY

Attendance Was Small, But Exhibits in Some Classes are the Best Ever

TWO CARDS IN RACING

Fairly Good Time Was Made Over the Half Mile Course in Two Races

The Rush county fair was attended today by about fifteen hundred people. The many counter attractions of the previous three or four weeks and the gloomy outlook for good weather this morning reduced the regular Wednesday crowd.

All the exhibits this year are above the average and the draft horses exhibited this morning are far above any class yet shown on the local fair grounds.

At the Floral hall many works of art, including painting, drawing and needle work are shown, and Supt. Jones pronounces it the best for years. Many Rushville women have exhibited there this season.

The "Three Valentines" in a sensational casting act and the "Ariel Ernsts" in a trampoline bar act proved good attractions.

The racing card this afternoon could hardly be classed as highly exciting, but it was interesting at all times. Frank DeHority, of Elwood, is starting the horses, and is both good in judgment and in voice.

WORKMAN SAYS TAX MUST BE PAID

Declared That He Will Personally Take the Matter Before the State Commission

J. B. Workman, the tax ferret, was here today, in attendance at the county fair. He says he will go before the county council when that body convenes next month, and present his argument in favor of the $8000 appropriation asked by the county commissioners, to carry on the work of ferreting and collecting sequestered taxes.

Mr. Workman stated that the few delinquents who are opposing the work, on account of the large sums of money they owe the county for back taxes, whether he secures the contract or not, for he declared he would put the matter in the hands of the State tax commissioner.

Feeling the pulse of the public, it is found that the tax payers of Rush county are about evenly divided on the matter of employing a ferret with a guarantee appropriation of such a large sum. There are some who claim that in event enough back taxes are collected to meet a like sum of the appropriation, the county would not profit much thereby and would hardly be justified in dealing with Mr. Workman as he is to receive one-third of all monies found due, and then the State's part would have to be deducted before Rush county would receive one penny. Others there are, who feel that if any taxes are due the county, they should be collected at any cost in justice to all.

HORSE INJURED IN RUNNING AWAY

Farm Wagon Ran Into Ed Oglesby's Rig and Causes Accident

While left standing in front of Betker's cigar store, Ed Oglesby's horse became frightened this morning and started east toward Main street, running into Fred Clevenger's buggy, which was standing a few yards away. When the horse struck Mr. Clevenger's rig, Mr. Oglesby's buggy was turned over and the horse ran to the corner of Main and Second street, and fell.

Some men ran to the horse, but before they could get him under control, the animal had town away from the harness. The horse was bruised up considerably, and it is thought that the injuries may prove fatal.

LOST A HORSE AND COW

Tuesday Was Very Unfortunate Day For Thomas Miller

Thomas Miller, who is a tenant on Dr. W. H. Smith's farm, northeast of this city, was very unfortunate yesterday. One of his best horses was kicked and owing to a broken leg had to be killed. Shortly afterwards his best milch cow, for which he had refused sixty dollars a few days before, too sick and died.

FARMER USER TRACTION ENGINE IN PLOWING

Connersville News: Nelson Gronendyke has started a new method of plowing in this part of the country.

Tuesday a traction engine might have been seen crossing and recrossing one of his fields with three sixteen inch plows attached by gangs. The contrivance moved at as rapid a rate as a traction engine usually makes on the highways and the plows all together cut about four feet at each trip.

Many Tears are Saved

One of the regular fair week pleasures we will have to forego this season is the repertoire show at the opera house. However, it will save many buckets of tears in this county, for we will be spared the pain and anguish of watching "Camille" cough through three acts and finally die Thursday night. Then too, that feeling of anxiety on Saturday night, "when we present the strongest bill in our repertoire, [that] sterling and thrilling four act, scenic comedy drama, "Why Women Sin and Girls Leave Home," by Lincoln Carter, and Bertha M. Olay. Remember we give away at this performance a ball bearing rocking chair to the fattest lady present, etc. etc."

Now who is it will say that we are going backwards?

By the Wayside

He was from the city. Visiting relatives here. Standing on the corner of Main and Second streets today he took a long deep breath, looking sky ward, saying: "Say, this is delightful. I can fairly taste the blossoms of daisies in the fresh mown hay aromatic breeze. This country air is simply delightful, I say."

A planter of the "new mown hay perfume," standing by, on hearing the poetic utterance, turned to a friend and said in a disgusted tone of voice: "New mown hay aroma, be burned. That blame, confounded fool is smelling this bone meal fertilizer the farmers are hauling through town."

With the heavy damp air this week, one can almost feel the "aroma." Blessed are the sufferers of hay fever.

OLD MAIDS IN RUSH COUNTY

Spinsters Organize and Try to Carrol the Old Bachelors by Diplomacy

GIVE BIG OUT-DOORS FETE

Trying to Outshine the "Un-fair" Cleopatra in Her Beguiling Love Making

Among the many unique organization of Rush county none appeal more to the curiosity of the old bachelors than the League Society, of Center township.

At last the old bachelors have found out the secret of this society. This mystery was revealed by a succession of social events which culminated on Saturday, Aug. 24 in a big feast and picnic near Norris Ford, Jackson township.

The ultimate object of this society like all other old maids' societies is to capture the wandering hearts of the forlorn bachelors.

The morning of the picnic was rainy, and all were fearful lest the old maids final attempt at corraling the old bachelors would end in miserable failure. But as the glorious sun began to shine, the downcast spirits of all began to rise.

Soon after arriving at their destination the old bachelors were engaged in a fierce game of ball.

But what were the old maids doing in the meantime? A passerby would have been astounded. Some were swinging, some were playing "three-cornered cat," and the more agile ones had mounted bareback the most gentle horses and were riding at full gallop over stumps and roots through the woods.

When "Old Sol" had reached the zenith, all seated themselves around a most bounteous repast, such as had never been seen by any old bachelor before or since. Evidently the old maids are very staunch in their belief of the old adage: "The quickest way to reach a man's heart is through his stomach."

After dinner the old maids could be seen watching with anxious eyes the effect of their final effort upon the old bachelors. But there are exceptions to all rule for there could be seen a straggling line of old bachelors making through the woods for the "Ole Swimmin' Hole." One of this group, however, became intoxicated with a desire to return to the old maids, but when he was forcibly put into the water, his ardor was cooled to such an extent that it took all the old maids' reserve powers to get him into social ranks again.

The evening was spent in such pleasant recreation that none noticed the passage of time, till the leader of the old maids, thinking to be sure of the capture, thought best to again feast the old bachelors, which was accomplished by a magnificent supper.

As the shades of night were falling, each old maid was anxious to be alone with her bachelor friend to see how much the feast had softened his heart. Some thought it necessary to take a trip to Rushville, while the others were detained in various ways on the road homeward, and none arrived home till a late hour.

The success of the old maids' strategy will readily be seen by the public in the future.

The members of this happy party were as follows: The old maids, Berni Rhodes, Bertha Kirkham, Ruby McDaniel, Ethel, Audrey and May Reeves, Leona Clark, Rella McBride, Ola Emay, Jennie Brooks, Hallie Retherford, Myrle Hall, Bertha Rhodes, Goldie Kirkham Mary Huffard, Leila Mull, Sylvia Hollowell, Susie Hill, Bessie Earnest and Lucile Rabb; and the old bachelors, Walter Lord, Paul McDaniel, Court Hackleman, Earl Wright, Carl Retherford, Joe Emay, Omer McDaniel, Byron Retherford, Everett McBride, Orville Brooks, Harry McManus, George Martin, Willie Myers, Dora Dill, Harter Wheeler, Clarence Lord, Fred Reddick, Aubrey Abernathy, Carl Berry and Glen Kirkham.

It will remain for Cupid and County Clerk Posey to register the result, if, however, there are going to be any results of the Old Maids' outing.

The grapevine telegraph seems to be working as industriously as ever. It is one of the institutions that is seldom troubled with strikes.

The expansion of business, all around the world, combined with recent wars have caused an inevitable money tightening. But the phenomenal gold production in recent years, which will reach for the whole world to $430,000,000 and possibly $450,000,000 this year, is one big help which is fully appreciated.

The Commoner thinks there is no use wasting time in telling the New York World what a Democrat is. Then it says that "the World would not recognize the real thing if it collided with it in the middle of the road." The inference is that the editor of the Commoner has failed to command the recognition that he desires from the editor of the World.

POLITICAL GOSSIP
A New Development in the Race for Gubernatorial Nomination.

Indianapolis, Ind., August 28.—From reliable sources it has been learned that Governor J. Frank Hanly expects to publicly declare himself for some candidate for the Republican nomination for governor within the next month. From hints let drop by him during the last four days it is strongly suspected that Lieutenant Governor Hugh T. Miller of Columbus will receive his support. It is not known definitely that the governor intends to go so far as to brand the lieutenant governor as the Hanly candidate, and it may turn out that he won't announce for him, but right now he is his first choice. The lieutenant governor is spending the summer in Canada, entirely removed from the political strife in his own state, but it is the understanding that he will return Sept. 1, and will immediately determine whether or not he will make the race. It has been rumored for some time that the governor would attempt to dictate to the party who shall succeed him. It has been surmised that he proposed to continue the fight for certain reforms that he lost during the recent legislature.

The Indiana railroad commission is to conduct a general inquiry into rates, practices and alleged discriminations of the several express companies doing business in Indiana. Many complaints have been filed with the commission charging discrimination, failure to deliver packages and other acts on the part of the express companies, and the commission already has many suits pending against the companies to compel them to abide by its orders. The commission was to have held a general conference with representatives of the various companies Sept. 3, but in order that more time may be available to gather data to be presented to the commission, a continuance until Sept. 12 has been granted. Summons have been issued to the American, United States, Adams, Wells-Fargo, National, Pacific, Southern, Southern Indiana and the Interurban express companies.

The statement of Judge Erwin of Portland that he is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor is liable to cause an awakening among the Democratic politicians. There have been rumors for some time that Judge Erwin would not be a candidate and that Congressman J. A. M. Adair of his district would make the race. Judge Erwin, however, wants to run and he is going to get in right away. The judge is known as "the man who looks like Bryan." He is a prominent lawyer and a good politician. Two years ago he was on the ticket for judge of the supreme court.

Vice President Fairbanks will be the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the Berrien county, Michigan, Republican club at St. Joseph, Sept. 16. Other noted men who will speak will be Governor Warner, Mayor Russe of Chicago and Congressman Foss of Illinois. This banquet always attracts immense crowds from lower Michigan and northern Illinois. No less than 8,000 persons attended the reception given to Speaker Cannon two years ago. Covers are usually laid for 500.

The Indianapolis News says that "all the States that have created commissions for the regulation of railroads and the protection of the public against such abuses as can be reached under State laws, none has acted with more wisdom or better results than Indiana." Most persons will agree that this statement is abundantly justified by the facts in the case.

The kernel of the whole business, so far as the tariff question in politics is concerned, is that the voter must make a choice between the Republican idea and the Democratic idea. The Republicans believe in the protective principle; if the Democratic leaders have any tolerance for protection, except when it touches favorites in their own districts they have not manifested it. They have given us no reason whatever to believe that a Democratic tariff would be a whit better than the Wilson and Gorman law and no body wants a repetition of that.

house yesterday and let the contracts for remodeling the institution, as provided for by the general assembly of 1905. The old building will not be changed so far as outside appearances go. A new steam-heating plant and a new electric light and power plant are to be put in, and the interior is to be changed by the addition of about 100 new cellrooms.

TURN IN THE TIDE
Wall Street Is Beginning to Get Its Bearings Again.

New York, Aug. 28.—The speculative sentiment revealed by the day's movements of stock prices yesterday was hesitating and shifting, as reflected by the constant turn in the tide. At the same time transactions were on a diminishing scale and were abandoned almost wholly to professional traders before the session had elapsed. The belief that the stock exchange would be closed on Saturday, as well as on Monday, in compliance with a petition in circulation amongst the members, was a factor in the growing dullness of the market, owing to the well-known disinclination of stock operators to enter on new commitments on the eve of a prolonged holiday.

Shot Editor on Sight.
Petersburg, Ind., Aug. 28.—Relatives at this place have received word that Charles Lewis, the editor of the Republican, at Kersey, Col., had been shot and instantly killed by a citizen of that place who claimed that an article Lewis published reflected on his wife. The man is said to have met Lewis on the street and shot him without warning. Three years ago Lewis married Miss Lucy Hoggart, a society woman of Petersburg.

Pennsylvania Highwaymen.
Lewistown, Pa., Aug. 28.—Roy Long, Calvin Knepp, Charles Bearley and Raymond Dixon, while automobiling on a dark road three miles from this place, at a late hour last night, were held up by three masked men, who took all their money and valuables. A vigorous hunt is being made for the highwaymen, but there is little chance of catching them.

GIVEN IMMUNITY

Beckham Tells Taylor That He Will Be Safe In Kentucky.

AN OFFICIAL ASSURANCE

Governor of Kentucky Writes the Commonwealth's Attorney Insuring Protection to Fugitive.

Safe Return to Indiana Promised Taylor If He Will Testify In Goebel Case.

Frankfort, Ky., Aug. 28.—In a letter addressed to Commonwealth's Attorney Robert Franklin of this city, chief prosecuting counsel for the state in the Goebel murder cases, Governor Beckham assures that official of his co-operation with him in seeing that William S. Taylor is protected from arrest and allowed to return to the state of Indiana if he will come to the Scott circuit court at Georgetown, this state, to testify in the next trial of Caleb Powers, charged in the murder conspiracy cases. The governor declares that he and the commonwealth's attorney can absolutely insure Taylor such immunity and a safe return to Indiana. The governor's letter to the commonwealth's attorney reads as follows:

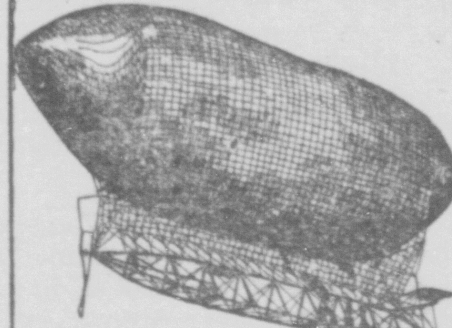

"Commonwealth of Kentucky, Executive Department, Frankfort.

"To Hon. Robert B. Franklin, Commonwealth's Attorney: Dear Sir—In response to your communication of Aug. 15, in reference to the matter of assuring William S. Taylor immunity from arrest in the event of his coming to Kentucky to testify in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Caleb Powers, I wish to say to you that in every possible way I shall co-operate with you in seeing that said Taylor, if he comes to testify in that case, shall be protected from arrest and allowed to return to Indiana. There is not the slightest question that I, as governor, and you, as commonwealth's attorney, of the district in which he is indicted, can absolutely insure him such immunity from arrest and a safe return to Indiana. You may therefore rely implicitly upon my aid if needed to carry out your assurance to him of this immunity. Very respectfully yours,
"J. C. W. BECKHAM,
"Governor of Kentucky."

ATTACKED BY LION

Horriying Experience of a Pittsburg Woman at a Summer Resort.

FROM THE JAWS OF DEATH

Mrs. Anna A. Huckle Was Saved From Blood-Crazed Beast Which Had Thrown Her to Ground.

Riddled by Bullets the Escaped Lion Was Compelled to Relinquish His Prey.

Pittsburg, Aug. 28.—Torn, bruised and suffering from shock, Mrs. Anna A. Huckle, aged fifty-five years, of this city, lies at her home today in a precarious condition as the result of an attack by a lion at Luna park, a summer resort in this city, last evening.

Mrs. Huckle was rescued almost from the jaws of death while she lay on the ground where the animal had thrown her, and while scores of rescuers were firing a fusillade of bullets into the blood-crazed beast, which meanwhile was biting and clawing at the woman's body.

Without warning, the lion appeared from behind one of the buildings and with a roar sprang for Mrs. Huckle, who was nearest to him. The woman screamed and attracted the attention of the crowd. W. A. Downing, chief of the park police, who came to the rescue, found the lion tearing away at the woman's clothing and, having drawn his revolver, immediately emptied all the chambers into the beast's body. Repeatedly Downing re-loaded his gun and fired, with but little effect. Other rescuers secured Flobert rifles from the shooting galleries and Remingtons from the concessionaires, and soon a score were pumping lead at the lion.

Still standing over the prostrate woman, flashing his teeth and lashing his tail, the lion stood with the ground about him literally plowed up by the hundreds of shots that were being fired at him. Soon, with the noise of the firearms and the shouts of the woman's rescuers, the lion turned and walked a few feet away, and, sinking down upon the ground, turned over on his back and with a few kicks and gasps he died. His skin was completely riddled with the small-caliber bullets that had been fired at him and took effect. The shot that caused the death of the lion was among the first fired, that of a 38-caliber revolver used by Chief Downing when he first appeared on the scene.

AN INFERNAL MACHINE

Was Directed to Secretary Cortelyou Through the Mail.

Philadelphia, Aug. 28.—The explosion of what appears to have been a large percussion cap in a package addressed to Secretary of the Treasury George B. Cortelyou created excitement in the Nicetown sub-station of the Philadelphia postoffice.

The package, which was collected from a box in the northern section of the city, was received by Clerk Roberts, who says it was about four inches long by two inches wide and three-fourths of an inch thick. When Roberts brought his steel cancellation die down upon the stamp the package exploded and was torn to pieces. Roberts was unhurt. The pieces of paper were put together and the package was found to have been addressed to Secretary Cortelyou, Washington, D. C., the address having been cut from a newspaper and pasted on the package.

Mr. Taft's Train in Wreck.

Kansas City, Aug. 28.—Passenger train No. 102, carrying Secretary of War Taft, was wrecked last evening near the depot at Spring Hill, Kan. None of the passengers or trainmen were hurt. A switch flew open after the engine and baggage car had passed over it. The mail car was derailed and dragged 500 feet over the ties. The passengers were shaken up, although the train was running slowly. Secretary Taft aided in reassuring timid passengers.

Not Ready for Decision.

San Francisco, Aug. 28.—Former Mayor Schmitz appeared before Judge Dunne yesterday expecting to hear a decision on the merits of his demurrers to the indictments charging him with accepting bribes from the United Railways and the gas company. Judge Dunne was not ready to hand down his decision, stating that other business was engaging his time. It may be several weeks before the ruling is made.

Fatal Wreck on Clover Leaf.

A GREAT SUNDAY SCHOOL CAMPAIGN

Has Been Inaugurated at the Main Street Christian Church

A great Sunday school revival has been inaugurated at the Main Street Christian church and great efforts are being put forth to have the greatest Rally Day on Sunday, September 22d ever held in this city. The school has for its motto, "Six Hundred in Attendance" and is confident in reaching this mark.

The campaign is starting off with enthusiasm and everyone is confident of success. The school is arranging for a contest with some other school in the State for attendance, which will possibly be decided upon before next Sunday.

A revival meeting will be held at the church during October and Rev. R. W. Aberly hopes to get a great interest up preparatory for the protracted meeting.

A MUTILATED MEASURE

Evicted Tenants Bill Passes British Parliament.

London, Aug. 28.—The Irish evicted tenants bill finally passed both houses of parliament last evening, in what Chief Secretary for Ireland Birrell called an emasculated form. The peers refused to budge on the main amendments, and in spite of the goods of the Nationalist members, the government elected to accept the mutilated measure rather than abandon the bill entirely.

The principal amendments inserted by the house of lords deprive the commissioners of the power of turning out the present holders of farms for the purpose of reinstating evicted tenants and give landlords the right to appeal to the law courts against the rulings of the estate commissioners regarding the value of land to be purchased.

OLD CLOCK HAS RUN FOR EIGHTY YEARS

Rare Relic of Pioneer Days Handled Down to Profressor Scholl

In the division of the household goods of the late Mrs. Scholl, of Brownsville, her son, Prof. J. H. Scholl, of this city, received the old family clock which is a rare and appreciated relic of pioneer days and possibly the oldest clock in this country. The time piece is of the old "Grandfather clock" variety, which stands on the floor and is at least eight feet high.

John Scholl, Sr., brought the clock from Pennsylvania in the early pioneer days, when Indiana was a wilderness. When he died the clock came into the hands of Mr. and Mrs. David Scholl, Prof. Scholl's parents. In 1832 a new case was made for the old clock by a man at Brownsville, and this case still protects the old-fashioned works.

Mr. Scholl says the clock has been keeping time for about eighty years as far as he has any record, and he will take great pride in prolonging the life of his boyhood days into whose face he has often looked, even before he could understand when it spoke to him.

Nelson Morris, a Millionaire, is Dead at His Old Home in Chicago

Chicago, Aug. 28.—Nelson Morris, the millionaire packer, is dead at his home after a lingering illness of heart disease. He expired in the old frame home in Indiana avenue, where he had lived ever since he became a business man here. He had a superstitious dread of changing his residence, and while his associates in business erected palaces and moved to suburbs, Mr. Morris remained in the old frame house.

Nelson Morris was born in the Black Forest, Germany, Jan. 21, 1839. His parents were not wealthy and he was compelled to depend upon his own efforts for an education. When twelve years old his parents emigrated to America, bringing the youngster with them. The younger Morris reached Chicago in 1854, securing employment in the stock yards. In two years he started in business for himself. He prospered and left a fortune estimated at $25,000,000. His representatives have made no statement as to the disposition of his fortune, but a personal friend of the deceased says he has reason for the assumption that the widow will receive her dower in the amount of one-third, and the remaining two-thirds, minus bequests to charity and to faithful employees in his business and home, will be given to the four children.

The stock yards are draped in mourning in respect to the memory of Nelson Morris. Business will be practically stopped at the yards during the funeral. At a meeting of the livestock exchange resolutions of sorrow and condolence to the family were adopted.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Rushville People Know How to Save it

Many Rushville people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is the statement of a Rushville citizen who has reclaimed good health by the use of this remedy:

Mrs. Ernest Carpenter, 919 N. Sexton Street, Rushville, Ind., says: "I gave Doan's Kidney Pills to my little boy. His kidneys were so weak and he could not refrain from bed wetting. This trouble had clung to him for sometime and I was afraid it would be not removed, as our doctor had not succeeded in checking it. He seemed delicate and craved nothing but sweets. He had a bad complexion and had every symptom of unhealthy kidneys. I learned that Doan's Kidney Pills had cured many children of bed wetting and I procured them at F. B. Johnson & Company's drug store. They soon checked the trouble. He has a better appetite now, the color in his face is returning and there is a general improvement in his condition."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
